THE SECOND FATALITY

Three Other Members of Crew of I-Rani are Slightly Hurt

HORTA, Azores, Aug. 9.—Another fatality marred the sea-plane expedition of General Italo Balbo today when Lieut. Squaglia, second in command of the I-Rani, died from injuries received when his craft capsized in taking off for Lisbon early today.

Lieut. Squaglia's death was the second fatality in the expedition. Sergeant-Mechanic Quantanalli was killed when the armada landed at Amsterdam on July 1st, while enroute to the United States.

The three other members of the crew of the I-Rani were slightly injured.

The men in the capsized plane were Captain Rianelli, Lieutenant Squaglia, Sergeant Cremoschi and Sergeant Roveri.

Despite the accident, the greater part of the armada continued on toward Portugal, leaving three planes behind with the one which capsized.

The plane hit the water with terrific speed when it capsized after it had already left the surface on its attempted take off. The accident occurred behind the break-water off San Miguel Island.

Montgomery Co. Farmers Want Dr. King Ousted

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 9.—(INS)—Demanding the ousting of Dr. Clyde L. King, former chairman of the Public Service Commission, as "czar" of the milk industry, about 150 Montgomery county farmers today began a milk strike in this district. At the same time plans were made for a meeting to consider a state-wide strike.

The farmers, meeting under the auspices of the United Protective Farmers Association at Greentree, Montgomery county last night, demanded $2.30 per hundredweight for milk instead of the $1.75 now received. Dr. King's dismissal and the establishment of licensed butter-fat testers.

It was stated at the meeting that other petitions seeking Dr. King's removal as head of the marketing division in the Department of Agriculture were being circulated in New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and other sections of Pennsylvania.

The regional committee of the Farmers' Protective Association, including representatives of farm organizations in Montgomery, Berks, Lehigh, Chester, Bucks, Delaware and Schuylkill counties, will meet Friday afternoon at Hilltown, Bucks county, to discuss plans for a state-wide strike.

THREATENS BOYCOTT

Washington, D. C., Aug. 9.—The threat of a national boycott, if necessary to the success of the National Recovery Act, was hurled today by Administrator Hugh S. Johnson, as a cleavage between Johnson and other high N. R. A. officials was revealed. Johnson said: "I don't believe the government will buy where the firms are not under the Blue Eagle."

High administration officials are not convinced he ought to have his way in this and are not sold on the idea.

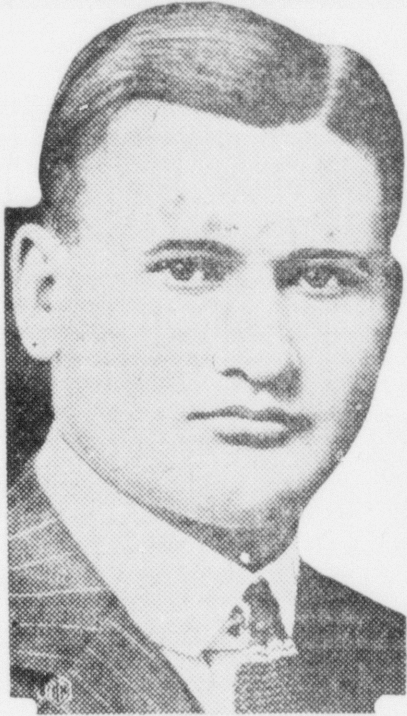

President Roosevelt himself may have to decide this issue when the time comes to decide.

Ample time will be allowed every concern to come under the "Blue Eagle's" wings, or stay out, but full pressure will be brought against those that stay out.

The power to decide when the boycott must be applied and against whom will remain with Johnson.

Johnson said his plan to have the government force a boycott of its own against those firms that refuse to apply with the code of Presidential agreements, merely follows what the government is asking the public to do.

Slain Rail Man

Impenetrable mystery shrouds the murder of Henry F. Sanborn (above), 44-year-old railroad executive, whose body was found in a crude grave in the woods near Bay-side, Long Island. He had been shot twice in the heart and had been dead about two weeks when found. Police questioned Maghilde Almskaar, his fiancée, but she could cast no light upon the mystery.

PLAN IMPROVEMENT AT PERKASIE PLANT

Electric Project Under Consideration Would Cost
About $55,000

NEED MORE SPACE

PERKASIE, Aug. 9.—Improvements to cost approximately $55,000 are being contemplated at the municipal electric light plant here, and plans for the project were considered at the August meeting of Perkasio Borough Council.

A twenty-page report on the condition of the plant was read, in which it was pointed out that the plant, built a section at a time, and as the means of the borough afforded, is no longer economically adequate for the needs of the borough.

A complete remodeling process is recommended, the largest part of which will mean the building of a new boiler room, with a capacity of three boilers. It is recommended that one new boiler be installed at once, and that one of the present boilers be removed to the new boiler room as soon as it can be completed.

This latter step will make room in the present quarters for a pulverizing machine, which the borough is planning to purchase. Unless a boiler is moved out, costly and temporary excavations must be made to take care of the new machine.

The pulverizer, the councilmen believe, will mean a saving of at least $3,000 annually, since it will make the purchase of a cheaper grade of coal possible. The machine will condition the coal for use under the boilers.

Perkasie council would go through with the improvements at the plant under the new Federal allotment fund for the aid of public works in municipalities. Application will be made to Governor Pinchot for a share of the state fund.

If the allotment is forthcoming, it will mean that one-third of the $55,000 will be given to the borough outright, and that the balance must be repaid at 3.5 per cent interest. This would mean repaying about $40,000, with the total retirement cost amounting to $2,400, exponents of the project say. In view of the fact that the pulverizer will save $3,000 annually, the borough should come out $600 a year ahead and have a rebuilt plant at the same time, councilmen believe.

Louis T. Claudier, Philadelphia engineer, made a preliminary report on his study of the electric light rates, with the view of revising the schedule.

NRA Meeting To Be Held In Bristol This Evening

Tonight a meeting is to be held in the Travel Club home at eight o'clock for the purpose of formulating local action upon the plans of the NRA.

"Representatives are invited from all organizations and employers," states Richard W. French, acting chairman of the committee sponsoring the move.

"This includes churches, women's organizations, civic and service clubs, fraternal and social associations, trade associations and all persons who employ others," states Mr. French.

"A plan of organization will be presented and the campaign outlined to get 100 per cent co-operation and results in Bristol.

"Let's have a big meeting with such a punch that we put the skids under Old Man Depression," concluded Mr. French.

If you're wise—you'll advertise.

MINERS RETURN TO WORK

Brownsville, Aug. 9.—Thousands of striking miners who for two days ignored President Roosevelt's peace announcement for Western Pennsylvania bituminous coal fields, trooped back to work today as the setting for the age-old capital-labor fight shifted to Washington where the coal code hearing got under way.

A check-up placed the number of strikers who have left the picket lines since Monday at about 50,000, out of an approximate 60,000 on strike last Saturday when the settlement was reached. Twenty thousand of these went back to work Monday and Tuesday in the northern and eastern fields.

Union leaders were unanimous in predicting that all miners would be back at work tomorrow. They said the vast majority of strikers already had accepted the truce and returned to work.

In Allegheny county a number of mines were still idle when pickets concentrated their activity on the Pittsburgh Coal Company tipplers. Company officials said pickets were demanding recognition of the union in violation of the agreement.

A meeting has been called by strikers at Coverdale, No. 8 for today, at which a vote will be taken on whether or not to return. Leaders said that if the men decide to return they will be back in the mine on the night shift tonight.

ARIZONA VOTES FOR REPEAL

Phoenix, Ariz., Aug. 9.—Arizona today was the 21st state to vote for repeal of the 18th Amendment. The majority was about four to one and was expected to mount even higher when additional returns are compiled.

WORK FOR MANY

Philadelphia, Aug. 9.—Several years' work for hundreds of men was in sight today as the result of action by City Council's Transportation Committee in approving construction of a high-speed transit line over the Delaware River bridge to carry the city's subway system into New Jersey. Passage of the ordinance for construction of the project is assured when council meets tomorrow.

CHASES BANDIT

Philadelphia, Aug. 9.—Despite three bullet wounds inflicted by a Negro whose hold-up attempts were frustrated, George Gouvas, 44, a restaurant proprietor, pursued his assailant more than 100 yards before falling unconscious. A policeman took up the chase but the Negro escaped. Gouvas is in a serious condition at the hospital.

"Billy" Leigh's single in the sixth inning scored the only tally of the game on the Hulmeville field last night as Hulmeville A. A. chalked up its eleventh consecutive victory of the second half and virtually clinched the half gonfalon.

In adding last night's win to their list Hulmeville has set a mark which may not be equaled for some time. Eleven straight wins is the first target for the other teams to shoot at and then six straight shut-out wins is another record for the books. Four of these shut-outs have been pitched by Howard Black, speed ball artist of the Hulmeville club. Black is unscathed upon in the last thirty-two innings and it was his fifth straight win. In the last four games the opposition has made but four hits from the Hulmeville twirlers, Black and Watson.

Last night's win for Hulmeville was close. Very close, because Johnny Mulholland's new find, Doc Diehm, was pitching a masterful game. He limited the winners to but three hits and the tally scored from him was the result of a slow squibbie being beaten out by Hemp. The team behind Diehm gave him wonderful support for the first time this season.

The only reason Diehm wasn't chalked up with the win was because the Bristol team could not find Black in the pinches. The A's made only one hit and that was a hard grounder down third base. Black was wild and hit three batters besides issuing a

SCOUTS GAIN WEIGHT

DURING WEEK AT CAMP

Bristol Troop 2 Has Enjoyable
Time at Waterfront
Camp

GOOD AT CONTESTS

Tanned by the sun, stronger in body, and increased in weight, a happy bunch of Scouts of Troop No. 2 returned from Camp Buccoo after having spent a week in the Bucks County Boy Scout Camp along the Raritan River. The local Scout troop was under the leadership of Russell Arrison, and Junior Assistant Scoutmaster Jack Fitzgerald. Troop Committeeman Harry Force was exceptionally helpful in providing for the food needs of the troop. Mr. Force with Cook Bill Lyndall, carefully planned and arranged the menu. The gain in weight of the troop was considerable, and the credit for it goes to the two men who by their supervision and preparation saw to it that every boy was well taken care of during the week.

The Scouts camped in what is known as the Waterfront. Several years ago, through the co-operation of William Dowden of the Dowden Engineering Company, the camp erected a mine chaser mast with a crew's nest and all of the fittings. Since then, a permanent unit of a lower and upper deck has been constructed, and all sleeping is done in hammocks as though on ship-board. This feature, coupled with the frequent use of the camp's three canoes and four rowboats, makes the Waterfront an unusually desired site.

In addition to Bristol No. 2 there were three other troops at Buccoo: Perkasio No. 2, Sellersville No. 1, and Milford No. 1. Bristol easily won the swimming meet by running up a total of 65 points to the second place of Perkasio with only 26 points. Sellersville came through with a third, and a total of 17 points. Blanche took a second in the plunge, Fitzgerald won first place with Blanche in second place in the 50 yard back stroke, Fitzgerald again starting in the 50 yard free style by taking first with McGinley second, and the breast stroke event gave another first place to Fitzgerald with Blanche second. The two Bristol teams "cleaned-up" the relay. Winning first place were Edward McGinley, William Betz, Albert Blanche and Jack Fitzgerald. Taking second were Jacob Hellings, Vincent Force, Paul Vandegrift and Leonard Dyer.

Bristol won out in the troop eliminations in the volley ball contest, but were overcome with the strength of the staff team, and lost the weekly watermelon. Although runners-up in the touch football, Perkasio finally nosed them out with the final game.

Albert Blanche and Thomas Collier, Jr., were awarded the highest honors for the week by election by their fellow campers into the Order of the Arrow, the National Boy Scout Brotherhood. The two boys were selected for their unselfish service for others, and all around good camping.

Lawrence McCoy, who is serving on the Buccoo staff as Indian Director, gave a very impressive demonstration of the fire ceremony. McCoy was assisted in his dancing by Leonard Dyer, who beat the tom-tom during the fire dance. The ceremonial campfires on Saturday evening have always been impressive, and many friends of the Scouts were with them on Saturday.

Members of Troop No. 2 who spent last week at Buccoo, were: David Abbott, William Betz, Albert Blanche, Thomas Collier, Jr., Jack Fitzgerald, Vincent Force, Jacob Hellings, Edward McGinley, John Sharkey, Jack Thompson, Robert Thompson and Paul Vandegrift. William Lyndall, of Bristol No. 6, also camped with the No. 2 scouts. Vincent Force of Troop 2, and

HUNDREDS ATTEND THE

FUNERAL OF P. J. BARRETT

St. Mark's Church Filled To Capacity at Services
Today

MANY FLORAL EMBLEMS

The funeral of the late Patrick J. Barrett was held this morning and was attended by hundreds of people who had known the deceased and who had learned to admire his sterling qualities of manhood and citizenship. St. Mark's Church was filled to capacity as high mass of requiem was said by the Rev. Father Paul Baird.

The assisting clergymen were the Rev. Father Schafferty and the Rev. Father Coughlin, Jesu Parish, Philadelphia; and the Rev. Father Marcelini Romagno, St. Ann's Church, Bristol.

Fifty-five automobiles composed the funeral cortege which wended its way from the Barrett residence, Beaver and Buckley streets to the church. Many other cars waited the arrival of the funeral at the church.

Burial was made in St. Mark's Cemetery under direction of the W. I. Murphy Estate.

The pall bearers were Messrs. Eugene, Pierce and William Barrett, Eugene Booth, John Gavegan and William Moore.

Members of Borough Council attended the funeral in a body.

There were a large number of handsome floral display pieces, prominent among which were those from Bristol Borough Council, Knights of Columbus and Association of Railway Conductors of the P. R. R., in all of which the deceased was a member.

Last night hundreds visited the Barrett residence and continuous groups of people visited the house until after midnight to pay their last respects of affection and esteem.

Mr. Barrett had been a resident of Bristol for 56 years, coming here from Mauch Chunk in 1877. He played a prominent part in the activities of the community and served as a member of Bristol School Board for 18 years and was one of three representatives from the fourth ward in Borough Council for many years.

EIGHT TRUCK DRIVERS PAY NEARLY $500 FINES

Vehicles Found to Have Been Greatly Overloaded Passing Through Here

DAMAGE HIGHWAYS

Eight truck drivers operating trucks which were carrying loads greatly in excess of their legal capacity, were arrested in a drive made early yesterday morning on the Bristol Pike south of the borough. The drive was made by members of the Highway Patrol from the South Langhorne station under command of Corporal Evans. The officers assisting were Dean and Reitz. All of the offenders were given hearings before Justice of Peace Edward Lynn, and fines imposed.

Four of the trucks were owned by Miller Trucking Company, three by Sauls and one by Pyramid. All were of Philadelphia except two.

Those fined and the excess weights were as follows:

Andrew Moore, 151 N. Conestoga street, 3,500 pounds; Michael Babie, Atco, N. J., 11,200 pounds; Fred Stutz, 6617 Jackson street, 22,600 pounds; Russell Visco, 3829 N. 6th street, 14,000 pounds; Paul Everett, 4412 Hurley street, 18,900 pounds; Walter A. Miller, 6232 Brons avenue, 94,000 pounds; George Fox, 3518 Braddock street, 21,900 pounds; Albert Louden, 23 Stockham street, Irvington, N. J., 4,800 pounds.

The fines totalled $418 and the truck drivers were severely censured for violation of the automobile law.

It is intimated that truck drivers are great violators of the NRA due to the fact that if they did not operate trucks so much overloaded, additional trucks would have to be placed on the road, thus giving work to more men and paying more license money into the state treasury.

The overloaded trucks greatly damage highways and also break pipes underground.

FORM ASSOCIATION TO RID COUNTY OF INCENDIARY FIRES

Insurance Companies Hold
Meeting and Discuss Plans

OFFER REWARD OF $500

To Make Every Resident A
Watchman to Catch
"Fire-Bug"

As an incentive for volunteer police and others in apprehending "fire-bugs" in Bucks county who authorities believe are responsible for the large number of barn fires that have resulted in thousands of dollars worth of damage in the past two months, an organization has been formed and a reward of $500 offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person or persons burning or attempting to burn property insured in any member company of the newly-formed association.

At a meeting of fire insurance company officials held at Doylestown for the purpose of making an organized effort to learn the causes of the many mysterious fires in Bucks county, six mutual fire insurance companies were represented and a number of others have agreed to co-operate.

As a result of the meeting the Association of Mutual Fire Insurance Companies was formed and officers were elected. Alfred M. Wildman, secretary of The Mutual Fire Insurance Company of Langhorne, was elected president, and Wilmer A. Twining, secretary of the Farmers and Mechanics Mutual Fire Insurance Company, of Wycombe, was elected secretary and treasurer.

In addition to the fire insurance companies, the Bucks county authorities, including the office of District Attorney Arthur M. Eastburn and County Fire Marshal William L. Stackhouse, of Hulmeville, are co-operating in the movement to rid Bucks county of incendiary fires.

The new association agreed to post the $500 reward which will go into effect immediately. Members attending the meeting here were very enthusiastic about the movement. They were informed by County Fire Marshal Stackhouse that a concentrated effort on the part of all property owners insured in the various companies, together with the assistance of the State police and the Fire Marshal's office, will be the only means of apprehending the "fire bugs."

Among the companies represented at the meeting were the Bucks County Contribution, Morrisville; Farmers' Mutual, Hulmeville; Farmers and Mechanics, Wycombe; Line Lexington Mutual Fire Association, Lansdale; Mutual Beneficial Association, Langhorne; and White Hall Mutual Fire Association, Doylestown.

Wedding of Miss Mary West And Daniel Scheffey Occurs

Miss Mary West, 1910 Wilson avenue, last evening in St. Mark's Church at seven o'clock, became the bride of Daniel Scheffey, Jr., 274 McKinley street. Father Baird performed the ceremony.

Miss Marie Scheffey, Farmersville, N. J., was bridesmaid and John Colgan was best man.

Mrs. Scheffey, Jr., wore a beautiful poudre blue toned moire dress, with a silver corsage on her shoulder, silver cloth slippers and gray-toned hat and gloves.

Miss Scheffey's gown was of ashes of roses tone. With this she wore a pink corsage on her right shoulder, white kid slippers, white turban and gloves.

The couple will reside with the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter West, 1910 Wilson avenue, where a reception was tendered the bridal party, immediately following the ceremony.

Bracken Post To Picnic On Sea Gull Island

Saturday, August 19th, Bracken Post and its Auxiliary will hold its first annual picnic on Sea Gull Island.

Commander Scheffey appointed William Griffiths, Marvel Durham, Joseph Schreiber and I. J. Hetherington to represent the Post; and Mrs. Benjamin Ahart, president of the Auxiliary, appointed Mrs. Strouse, Mrs. Wessaw and Mrs. Wilson to represent the women. It is planned to leave Bristol for the island about 1 p. m., where games of all kinds and dinner will be enjoyed.

Members of both organizations and their families are urged to attend. Tickets for children, who will be carried free, may be obtained through Joseph Schreiber.

At the last meeting of the Auxiliary they contributed $25 to the Cadet Corps toward the purchase of new uniforms. The Cadets are working hard to put this effort across, and although they are not making a general drive for this purpose, anyone caring to make a contribution, no matter how small, may do so through any of the Cadet Corps members: H. F. Burbank, Cadet Corps Commander, Mrs. John Wisner, President of the Cadet Boosters' Association, or any member of Bracken Post.

BUILDING UP THE NAVY

That plans for the building up of the United States Navy have progressed to the point where bids for the construction of 21 vessels have been opened by the Department should be a matter of satisfaction to the entire country.

There are two important reasons for this. One is that it will give the country a navy more adequate for defending this country's interests and commanding the respect of other nations. The other reason lies in the stimulation of industry which the construction program will provide.

Secretary Swanson predicted that the actual work would be under way within 60 days. The program will cost $100,000,000, the money coming from the public recovery act funds, and will cover three years. Included in the vessels to be constructed will be two aircraft carriers of 20,000 tons each; one heavy cruiser armed with eight-inch guns; one light cruiser armed with six-inch guns; eight destroyers of 1,850 tons each; seven destroyers of 1,500 tons each; and two submarines of 1,400 tons each.

The three-year program represents the greatest ship construction project in the history of the country. It represents a movement to build the navy up to the strength permitted under the London treaty. Completion of the program will leave the United States still about 204,000 tons under the treaty limits and farther away from the latter than will be either Great Britain or Japan when these two nations complete their present building programs.

It is easy to see, therefore, that America is not bent on unduly increasing the strength of its navy. Its action cannot be thus interpreted in the light of facts.

Steel and various other industries will benefit from the program and employment will be greatly increased in consequence.

WHY CRIME GROWS

Capture the other day in Iowa of the bandit "Buck" Barrow, who with his brother had spread terror through the Middle West, brings forcefully to mind the soft-heartedness of officials in dealing with criminals.

Both of the Barrows had served prison terms, and "Buck" only last year was pardoned by Governor "Ma" Ferguson of Texas. Crimes charged against the two since the release of "Buck" include robbery, kidnapping and murder. The pair armed themselves with weapons obtained from a national guard armory in Oklahoma. They never hesitated to shoot it out when cornered by officers or resisted by their intended victims.

"Buck" probably soon will be back in a penitentiary. How long he will remain is a question. "Ma" Ferguson is not the only governor who has failed to exercise due care in extending leniency to convicts. The practice is one far too prevalent among officials generally clothed with pardoning powers. Until this condition is changed, crime will continue to flourish in the United States.

It's depressing to look at prison walls and think how many of the wrong people are shut outside.

It doesn't take brains to make money. Look how much jack the easy marks collect for swindlers.

NAMES you should know

YOU like to know names that everybody knows—name of the man who tied lightning to a kite; name of the man who watched a teakettle and went out and made an engine. Just knowing such names gives you pleasure.

Yet there are names that thousands of people know that can give you much more pleasure in a much more personal way. Names that stand for the best things to eat, to wear, to sleep on. Names, that if connected with the salad dressing, hat, fountain pen you select—or any other desirable thing—mean it is most desirable. Names written large in ADVERBISEMENTS.

Advertisements tell why those are wise names for you to know. Why such names greet you in the best grocery, department and hardware stores. Why those names are in the buying vocabulary of thousands . . . are believed in by thousands . . . justify belief!

Read the advertisements. Don't ask vaguely in a store for "cold cream," "a skillet," "a vacuum cleaner." Ask for So-and-So's Cold Cream, So-and-So's Skillet, So-and-So's Vacuum Cleaner. Use the names, you have learned through advertisements, that stand for the product that means most to you and most to everybody.

It pays to read all advertisements in this paper

SYNOPSIS

At the premiere of her latest motion picture, beautiful Leni Luneska, the star, is embarrassed by the appearance of her husband, Karl Kruger, whom she married in Vienna, where just a child. Years of brutality and unhappiness followed. Finally Kruger was put in prison and Leni came to America where, after a long struggle, she reached stardom in motion pictures. Kruger now seeks recognition as her husband and waits in a private office of the theatre for her to reconsider her refusal. Meanwhile, thieves are robbing the safe in the next office, Lucky Cavanaugh, who met the star that evening and fell in love with her on sight, orders Kruger to leave. A fight ensues. Failing in an attempt to shoot Cavanaugh, Kruger rushes into the next office. The burglars, surprised, kill him. Detective Tom Mulrooney suspects Cavanaugh but, when the latter denies the crime, gives him four days in which to find the murderer among his underworld friends. Cavanaugh is warned by "Slug," one of the robbers, that the gunmen fear Lucky will squeal and so "have you on the spot." At Leni's home, Lucky receives a phone call from a woman, named Annette, who tells him he is not putting anything over on her. Cavanaugh chides Leni for being jealous.

CHAPTER NINETEEN

Leni relaxed in his arms, her eyes closed.

She had absolutely no idea what life was doing with her. At last she had come to the point when she had ceased to care. Against the breast of Lucky Cavanaugh, encompassed by his muscular arms, she would find solace, or find it nowhere. Everything else—even the brief soaring jealousy—had passed out of the life of this storm-tossed woman.

"Which one is your bedroom?" A silken sleeve slipped back from her rounded arm as she flung it out in wordless direction.

Whatever happened to her from now on could not possibly be worse than what had happened in the past. The taste of glory had gone bitter in her mouth. There was nothing to do but lie limp in Cavanaugh's arms as he carried her on.

A vagrant thought stirred in her mind. How little the public knew of the real story of Leni Luneska!

She simply was no longer interested in either the public or her own career. All of that was passed and scarcely worth thinking about, but suddenly, deep within her, came a tiny soft pang of nostalgia—a mere sorrow, not struggle, merely a little soft ache of regret.

Cavanaugh was standing beside the bed, still holding her in his arms. Her cheek was against the silk facing of his dinner jacket. From his body came a clean smell of cigarettes and splendid clothing. His arms tightened around her for a moment and she could feel with her body the steady throbbing of his heart.

"You poor little kid!" he whispered.

She was conscious of something strangely beautiful surrounding her and this man—or was it only an illusion of the senses? Yet it was something curiously familiar—a quality of feeling never before felt, yet vaguely remembered as a half-forgotten dream.

Very gently Cavanaugh lowered her to the bed. Her head with its thick fragrant hair rested upon a small cushion of silk no larger than a baby's pillow.

Cavanaugh sat down on the side of the bed and picked up her hand. That was all. . . . Leni snuggled her head more comfortably and gave her body a tiny stretch. She was pleasantly tired, but the gripping weariness of inner and outer storms had miraculously seeped out of the slender and perfect body. Life had become almost a dream and she wondered, hazily, whether Cavanaugh was dreaming it too.

Her eyes opened slowly. She looked up at him. Perhaps in the poor light it was an illusion but it seemed that his features had softened—that he had taken on a tenderness of expression that had erased all that was tense and sophisticated.

"Please—always be like this," she whispered.

The man gazed at her adoringly. Her hand in his palm was like a bird in a warm nest.

"I'm so tired, Lucky," she said. "I don't know what anything's all about any more . . . and I don't care."

He did not answer and she watched him silently for a moment.

"What's the matter, dear?" she asked.

When he spoke it was as though a barbaric hand had brushed aside a gossamer veil.

"You win!" he said abruptly.

"When I brought you upstairs I meant to put you on your bed and leave here right away. I didn't want to get under any woman's spell. You're a movie star and that means you're a hundred to one shot to top any man that gets mixed up with you. I've always been the ace in my own particular pack, and I don't want to be the deuce, I thought I had everything figured out. My idea was to see you through this jam and then forget about you—for my own self-protection. It was a swell idea but it didn't work."

Something in Leni's breast began to go dead. His words had smashed through the glistening fabric of her dream and brought her back to the harsh realities she had sought to escape.

"And now what?" she asked with a beginning of sadness.

He leaned forward until his face became a dark cloud hanging over her.

"I want you too much to leave you!" he said with almost a song in his voice. "I've never seen any-

Newportville, 5; Croydon, 4
Elephants, 8; Newport Road, 0
Holding the Newport Road Men's Club to three hits, "Charlie" Wright pitched the Elephants to an 8-0 victory last night on the Newportville field. In blanking the Newporters, Wright beat his brother, Melvin, for the second time this half. The brothers had split two other hurling matches.

Two of the losers' three hits went to "Reds" Bartles while "Milt" Davis was credited with the other. "Tommy" Hughes led the winners with two hits. Roy Beecher's single in the sixth, driving across two runs was enough for the Newportville A. A. nine to defeat the Croydon A. C., 5-4. By virtue of their win Newportville advanced into second place in the league standing.

Beecher made three of the winners' eight hits and played a nice game in the field. For the losers, Lewis excelled.

TWILIGHT BATTLE TO BE PLAYED HERE SUNDAY

The first game of the Bristol Twilight League championship series will be played on Sullivan's field Sunday. This was announced by the league officials last night. The Hibernians' winners of the first half will meet the winners of the St. Ann's-Edgely A. C. playoff game of this Friday night. The playoff will take place on the Edgely diamond.

Tonight on St. Ann's field, the Jefferson A. C., of the Bristol Twilight League will meet the Trenton All-Scholastics, of the North Trenton Twilight League. The Mules will use "Moose" Fry and Joe Britton as the batterymen. The remainder of the line-up will be Tullio, Keating, L. Tomlinson, E. Keating, A. McCafferty, Wright, and W. Tomlinson. Game will begin at six-thirty o'clock.

pass. But in the pinches, Black was invincible.

The winning marker came in the sixth. Hemp beat out a slow roller to third. Hemp stole second and moved to third on Rockhill's infield out.

Leigh then plastered a hit to left which admitted Hemp. It was Leigh's second hit of the game.

Cracking in the fourth inning, the best the Parkland team could do with the Hibernians last night on Sullivan's field was to hold the Bristol club to a 4-4 tie.

The Parkies went into the fourth holding a 4-0 lead and with Wilson Holland working his last ball to perfection seemed like sure winners. But the Parkland defense cracked and the fielders began to throw the ball all over the lot. Three errors in one frame mixed with a double from the bat of "Nev" McGinley and Gleason's single counted four markers for the Hibs.

"Ed" Sullivan pitched for the Hibs and allowed four hits. He had a bad first inning when a pass to Downing and singles by Cooper, Holland, and Gotwald scored three tallies. After this the Parkies were held hitless until Adams singled in the fourth. Sullivan fanned eight batters in five innings.

The playoff of this game will be played on Sullivan's field on Monday night.

Scouts Gain Weight During Week at Camp

William Lyndall of Troop 6 are spending a second week at Buccoo, and are camping with Doylestown No. 1.

Bristol No. 1 is camping the third week, and also the members of Troop No. 7. Members of other Bristol troops are coming up as individuals, with the exception of Troop No. 3, who are still uncertain as to just what week they will take.

The second contingent of Scouts arrived at Camp Buccoo on Sunday. They were from Doylestown No. 1, Chalfont No. 1, Siles No. 1, New Hope No. 1, and Yardley No. 1. Scout Executive William F. Livermore received the troops, and gave everyone a personal inspection. The campers must have with them a certificate from their home physician indicating their general good health, and the absence from their systems of any communicable disease. All of the leaders attended a staff meeting, and completed plans for the second week. Responsibilities were assigned, and the program with its problems was carefully discussed.

Sunday is the day of renewing old friendships as units arrive at camp, and the previous week's campers leave for their homes. Perkasie No. 2, Milford No. 1, Bristol No. 1 and Sellersville No. 1 checked out after completing a week of Scouting experiences that returned each Scout to his home town strengthened in character, and with a greater appreciation of what the simpler things of life in the outdoors can offer to him.

When the troops were given their final health check it was found that the 57 campers had gained 133 pounds or an average of about 2 1-3 pounds per camper. The new plan of camping where the camp staff is developed from among the leadership at camp was fairly successful. Additional leadership training courses during the coming fall and next spring will do much in furthering the quality of the supervision. The "great experiment" of having the Scouts prepare their own meals under the watchful eye of their troop leader, rather than the camp mess, was satisfactorily worked out. The excellent weight gain, and the constant happiness of the campers was a definite indication that the experiment can now be labelled as "the real thing." The Scouts are learning more by doing, and the character trait of self-reliance is being cultivated. The mothers who have visited camp have been unanimous in their praise as well.

as amazed with the skill displayed by their sons in meal preparation, cooking, etc.

FLETCHER HOLLAND, Bristol's entry in the National Canoe Association's annual regatta held in Chicago at the World's Fair, was a member of the team that won the senior quad doubles on Monday last.

Holland also placed second in quad singles as a representative of Cawaca Canoe Club of Philadelphia, and won first with partner in two-man doubles event, a first in one-man singles, and a third place.

"Al" Bauer, the other Bristol entry at the Fair, is entered in the tiling contests with Holland, an event which will be decided today.

Do you know that Herbert Lawrence, of Radcliffe street, is seeded player No. 4 in the Trenton senior tennis singles tournament being held in Cadwalader Park this week?

"Herb" defeated "Ted" Kennedy, 6-1, 6-3, last night to quote the State Gazette "The Bristol Flash's cannonball serves and fast placements proved Kennedy's downfall."

Franklin Fine, who did so well in the Trenton junior championship matches last week, is again at it... Lawrence's protegee had an easy time taking over Edward Fumell without the loss of a game, 6-0, 6-0, in the men's championship.

Britain's Sport Aces

By BURNLEY

© 1933, King Features Syndicate, Inc., Great Britain rights reserved.

If you'd travel over to London and witness the spectacular ceremony of changing the guard at Buckingham gates, you'd be sure to notice that the stalwarts of the king are stepping just a bit higher, moving just a bit more briskly, and wearing their busbies at an angle just a bit more cocky. There's a new zest to their marching swing—and with good reason, for Britannia is ruling the sports waves this year as never before.

Victory after victory the athletes of England have piled up for the Union Jack. In nearly every sports endeavor, the lords and ladies of King George's sport domain have carried the British standard to the forefront.

And the United States has suffered at their hands. You're thinking right now of the crushing defeat that Perry and Austin inflicted on Vines and Allison—and that's what we can't forget either. In the most devastating performance in years, the British tennis aces downed our finest players and shattered America's Davis Cup hopes.

That was only one of a series of British triumphs. A few days previously, Jack Crawford, Australian net wizard, blotted Vines from the Wimbledon championship. And just before that the American Ryder Cup team, considered the strongest aggregation ever collected on these shores, fell before the English golfers.

Jack Lovelock, British runner who spent his school days in New Zealand, came over here to do some running. And what running he did! He let Bill Bunthorn of Princeton pace him into the fastest mile ever run by any man and in a record time that was considered impossible.

We have to mention, also, Dorothy Round's splendid stand against Helen Wills Moody. The English queen took a set from Helen—the first Queen Helen has dropped in years, and in doing so hoisted herself to the upper strata of women players. Miss Round probably will get another chance to battle Mrs. Moody at Forest Hills this week in the Women's Nationals.

It certainly has been a wow of a year for the Britishers—a year of victories that started with Sir Malcolm Campbell's speed record on the sands of Daytona Beach—yes, he had to come all the way over to America to show the Yankees some real speed.

Looks as if the old country is rather evening things up for the American victory hurricane at the last Olympics. Eh wot?

The Home Town League Amplifies The N. R. A.

The NRA aims to increase employment nationally. The HOME TOWN LEAGUE, the local association of retail stores, aims to help the NRA, by buying products manufactured in this locality.

It does not take an economist to figure out that if we patronize those stores that are buying from the plants in which we work, we are helping to keep our own jobs.

The following stores are members of the HOME TOWN LEAGUE; they have pledged to buy products from those manufacturers, who directly or indirectly benefit this community. They deserve your support:
